DELEGATE APPOINTED

BY CANADA FOR CONFERENCE WITH RUSSIA

On Seizure of Canadian Sealers—Chamberlain Replies to Sons of England.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).
Ottawa, Nov. 27.—Henry A. Little, Woodstock, Ontario, barrister, has been chosen by the Canadian government to represent it at the conference next February in London, England, with a representative of the Russian government concerning compensation for nine Canadian sealers which were seized in the Behring Sea. The Sons of England have received a reply from Chamberlain, Colonial Secretary, thanking them for the message sent him.

CANADIAN GOVERNMENT

Will Make Immigration Agents Of Farmers Formerly From the States.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).
Ottawa, Nov. 27.—The department of the interior has made arrangements with railways to give cheap fares as far south as Kansas, to enable farmers recently settled in the West from the United States to visit the old homes and tell of their prosperity on this side of the boundary line.

CHURCH SOCIAL.

A social in connection with the Presbyterian church was held last evening in the basement of the church. Rev. Dr. Berdman, superintendent of western missions, was present, also the pastor, Rev. Mr. McQueen. Owing to so many other attractions the same evening the attendance was not large, but otherwise it was quite successful. The feature of the entertainment was a competition in answering a list of questions, which was the occasion of a great deal of interest, amusement and sociability. Prizes were given to those giving the largest number of correct answers. Mrs. Bishop secured the ladies' prize and Mr. McCorkindale the gentlemen's prize. During the progress of the social Mrs. W. Johnston Walker and Miss Alice Crafts gave a number of piano selections. A candy table was presided over by Misses Anna Oliver and Jessie Belcher, assisted by Miss Alice Crafts, and a neat sum was realized. A tasty supper concluded the entertainment.

—Major Burditt, provincial officer of the Salvation Army, Winnipeg, is in Edmonton to-day. He is accompanied by the Calgary Salvation Army brass band. Special services will be held in Robertson hall this evening at 8 p.m. and to-morrow at 11 a.m., at 3 p.m., and at 8 p.m. On Monday evening the new Salvation Army barracks on Fraser avenue will be opened.

LORD DUNDONALD

MAY GO TO ENGLAND ON HIS RETURN.

Canadian Commander-in-Chief—Seizure of Binder Twine—Col. Ruthenford May Go to England.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).
Ottawa, Nov. 27.—There is talk of Lord Dundonald going to England after he returns from the Pacific coast. In that case, Lord Aylmer, adjutant general, could act in his place until such time as a new Military Bill is passed, when he could then take the position permanently. Inspector Haycock has made another large seizure of binder twine at Blenheim. It is short in measurement and is manufactured by the Chatham Cordage Company. Col. Ruthenford, deputy adjutant general, goes to England with Sir Frederic Borden to look into artillery matters there.

"Picturesque Edmonton" is the name of the latest souvenir book, gotten out by C. W. Mathers. It certainly is a very swell book, and contains fully Mr. Mathers' reputation as an artistic photographer. It is of the same size and style as his "Far North" souvenir, which found such ready sale. There could not be anything more appropriate as a gift for friends in the east, south or west, not only a lovely gift, but a good advertisement for Edmonton; because people at a glance see that Edmonton is not in the backwoods, but is strictly up-to-date. NOMINATION DECLINED.

To the ratifiers who signed the nomination asking me to accept the nomination for the majority for the coming year:

I tender you my sincere thanks, and highly appreciate the compliment paid me by such a largely signed petition of the representative business men of Edmonton. I am, however, compelled to decline the nomination, both on account of business reasons and the poor state of my health, which requires a relaxation of business cares and worries rather than that I should assume additional burdens and responsibilities.
I realize that Edmonton is in a transition period, that the old order of things is passing away and making room for the new, that the foundations are now being laid and much depends on what is done and how it is done for the next few years. Nothing would please me better than to be able to take a hand in moulding the future destiny of the town in which I have spent the greater portion of my life, and the town in which I have always had and still have such faith.

The crops have not turned out as well as expected, but several samples of good wheat and oats are shown.
November 26th.

WINNIPEG MARKETS.

Wheat.—Manitoba wheat has been firm all the week and prices have advanced under the influence of the American advance. The demand, however, is not so active as it usually is at this time of year.

Oats.—The market is very quiet. About the only business doing is the local feed trade, and this only amounts to about two cars per day. Millers would buy freely if they could get the right grades, but choice oats are scarce. Exporters say they are able to ship out a few cars now and again, but there is no steady demand. In Manitoba prices are above those of the west. Oatmeal is not very liberal, although there are a good many enquiries from country points for prompt. Local feed dealers are paying 30c for No. 2 white oats, in carlots on truck here, and 28c to 29c for feed grades. For farmers' loads at country points prices are averaging 30c. For William quotations are the same as Winnipeg.

Barley.—There is not much business doing in this grain, and the market is quiet. Prices are steady. Maltster grades are bringing 30c to 31c per bushel in carlots on truck here, and feed grades 28c to 30c. Farmers are getting about 28c at country points.

The special meetings in the Baptist church are growing in interest and will be continued during next week. On Sunday evening Evangelist Mal McLeod will speak on Daniel.

NATURAL GAS COMPANY

Wishes to Exploit This Vicinity For Natural Gas—Council Considering Matter.

A business men's meeting was held at three o'clock yesterday afternoon in the council chamber to hear an application from a company of local and Toronto capitalists for a franchise granting them rights to exploit for natural gas at Edmonton. The mayor, council, and about thirty business men were present. The business men were called to get an expression of opinion from the councilmen for the guidance of the council. Mr. Dingman, of Toronto, was the spokesman for the company. His company wished to prospect for natural gas here. This would necessitate a large outlay of money, and the company asked the right to lay gas mains beneath the streets in the city, provided natural gas is obtained. The company does not ask the town to guarantee that the gas, if found, will be used by the ratepayers, they simply request permission to lay the pipes. There is no financial assistance asked for. The promoters urge that the discovery of natural gas at Edmonton would result in great good to the town. It would furnish cheap motor power and fuel. The price would adjust itself as the company would have to compete with the cheap local coal supply. The council will have the option of taking over the work at any time on the payment of a just consideration. Mr. Dawson, of Bown and Dawson, recently of Petrolia, Ont., suggested that the franchise be not an exclusive one. Jno. A. McDougall, while granting that the company should get some consideration for exploiting the scheme, maintained that the length of time of the franchise should be curtailed. A twenty years' franchise was asked for. The general opinion however, was that this period was too long. A considerable discussion followed. The feeling of the meeting was tested by a resolution and proved to be unanimously in favor of granting the company a franchise under certain restrictions. The company should be bound to supply to all who would demand the product. As a fuel, natural gas is exceedingly convenient, there being no dust, smoke or ashes in connection with it. The company will be bound to supply the gas to the citizens of Edmonton as cheaply as supplied elsewhere in the neighborhood. After approving of the granting of a franchise, the meeting broke up.

Afterwards, at an adjourned meeting of the council, the matter of restrictions was fully discussed. The company will be bound to commence operations within six months of the granting of the franchise. The time of completing the test for natural gas is left in the discretion of the council. The gas mains will be laid beneath the alleyways.

Mayor Short and Councilors Fraser and Cusack were finally appointed a committee to draft an agreement, to be finally considered at the meeting of the council on Tuesday afternoon next at four o'clock.

PUBLIC MEETING

The Transportation, Tariff and Provincial Autonomy Questions Discussed at Length.

The public meeting in Robertson hall on Thursday evening, addressed by F. Oliver, M.P., on the questions arising out of the recent session of parliament, was very largely attended and enthusiastic. Every available seat in the hall was occupied and very many had to stand in the aisles. The very best of order prevailed throughout. C. W. Cross, president of the Edmonton Young Liberal Association, acted as chairman. After a very brief introductory address, he called upon F. Oliver, M.P., to address the meeting.

Mr. Oliver dealt with the transportation, railway commission, tariff and provincial autonomy questions. He first took up the transportation problem.

When the Liberal government was elected in 1896, it found the country in the grasp of a railway monopoly. It was the hope then that a policy of railway competition would take effect. In this there was considerable disappointment for a number of years, but recently a change has taken place. In the last session steps were taken to ensure railroad competition across the Territories, and active competition between two powerful railway companies, the Canadian Northern, and the Grand Trunk Pacific was secured. These two great competitive railways find their common crossing point at Edmonton. The project of railway development has found its climate in Edmonton and abundant prosperity prevails. Our land values have increased. While every value that is given to property at the present time is warranted, provided our railway prospects are realized, if they are not realized, the future prospect of Edmonton is, to say the least, not so favorable. The question at the next elections will be: Do you approve of or disapprove of the government's railway policy? The present government stands committed to carry out the projected railway plans, which are so important to Edmonton, and we had better stand by the men whose policy it is to support those who, for fifteen years have given the country over to the Canadian Pacific Railway monopoly. He was sent to parliament to represent the people of this district and to further their interests, and had he voted against the Grand Trunk Pacific project, as the Conservative press seemed to wish him to do, he would have been guilty of selling by his vote the injury of this district, by barring railway construction. Referring to the Canadian Northern Railway, the government had found it a going concern last year in Manitoba and east to Lake Superior. The company had a charter to build to Edmonton, and another from Edmonton to the Yellowhead Pass. They had the permission to build, but not the money. The government had guaranteed the bonds of the company up to $13,000 a mile, from Granview, in Manitoba, to Edmonton. The Liberal policy in this guaranteeing the bonds of the company, was to let the railway monopoly in to which the Conservative government had thrown it. The Canadian Northern Railway construction to Edmonton was now assured. To safeguard itself the government takes a first mortgage on the railroad road added, and the second mortgage on the other railroads of the company. The government further has control of rates over the Canadian Northern Railway. This ensures effective competition with other railroads. Western members also secured definite stated rates as follows: the maximum haulage rate on grain from Edmonton to Port Arthur, 23 cents per hundred pounds; the rate of seven cents a hundred pounds to the farmers of this country; coal, from Edmonton to Winnipeg, $4.25 a ton; lumber, a very considerable reduction of rates. The C. N. R. assured the development of the great Saskatchewan valley. All these benefits were secured with absolutely no land grant, absolute control of rates, no exemption from taxation and not a cent of actual cost to the people of this country. The Transcontinental railway has been represented as an inquiry by the Conservative press. This appears to be for the task appears to be for the maintenance of the Canadian Pacific Railway monopoly. The Grand Trunk Pacific means competition to a finish. Under the Transcontinental railway the government builds and owns the line from Moncton to Winnipeg. The Grand Trunk Pacific builds and owns the line from Winnipeg to the Pacific. The railway operates the whole line, paying the government three per cent interest on the road. The government section of the road, three-quarters of the bonds of the Grand Trunk Pacific from Winnipeg to the Pacific and takes security on the road and the twenty million dollars of rolling stock. The Intercolonial or other railroad lines can procure running rights over the Grand Trunk Pacific railroad. On the Grand Trunk Pacific the government only guarantees three-quarters of the bonds up to $13,000 a mile, while on the Canadian Northern Railway the government guaranteed the whole cost of $13,000 a mile. Still the Conservative press extols the Canadian Northern and decries the Grand Trunk Pacific bargain. The objections to the government building the eastern section of the road were then dealt with. During the last three years the grain blockade problem has been seriously injuring the West. The grain has to be got to Lake Superior before navigation closed or pay high for storage rates. The result of the government building the railway will enable grain to be shipped throughout the winter. The Canadian Pacific Railway line was not built to suit this traffic as the gradients and curves are not suitable for the economical forwarding of grain. The Canadian Pacific Railway has to pay four to five per cent interest on $4,000 per mile. The Grand Trunk Pacific three per cent, on $3,000 per mile; thus the Grand Trunk Pacific will be able and will have to carry freight at lower rates. The farmers will reap the benefit. The objection, why was the western section not built by the government? was next dealt with. The eastern and western portions of the railway have different purposes to serve; the eastern part to carry traffic, the western part to create traffic by developing the country. By the introduction of the Grand Trunk Pacific we are assured of the construction of branch railways and railway competition. On the eastern section the government stands the cost of the interest on the bonds for seven years and also the interest on the bonds for three-quarters of the cost of the Pacific section for seven years. This means a cash outlay of between thirteen and fourteen million dollars, and for this we get a railway from coast to coast, and a system of control of rates superior to any bargain yet made. A comparison between the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Grand Trunk Pacific agreement was then made, and the speaker concluded this part of his speech by asking if he would have done his duty had he not supported the bill.
